What is Domestic Violence?

Domestic Violence is a pattern of abusive or aggressive behavior in a relationship. These behaviors are used to gain or maintain power and control over an intimate partner and get the results the abuser wants. Anyone, regardless of gender, age, or sexual orientation can become the target of abuse.

Safety Strategies

A safety plan is a set of actions you can take that can help lower your risk of being harmed by an abuser. Safety planning is an ongoing process and should be continually assessed. A victim advocate can assist you with developing a plan.

SAFETY TIPS

- During an incident, avoid areas without an exit
- While leaving an abusive partner, danger often increases
- Do not share plans to leave with abuser
- Save any documentation (photos, recordings) of abuse

Protective Orders

A protective order is issued by district courts in Utah as a means of preventing additional abuse from occurring. (78B-7-804(3))

Where can I file a protective order?

Protective orders can be filed using the Online Court Assistance Program (OCAP) through <https://www.utcourts.gov/en/self-help/services/ocap.html>

Jail Release Agreement (JRA) UT Code 78B-7-802

A person arrested or issued a citation for domestic violence must either sign a Jail Release Agreement (JRA) or they will be issued a Jail Release Court Order.

Conditions usually within a JRA:

- No contact with the victim
- No threatening or harassing the victim
- Not knowingly enter the premises of the victim's residence or any premises temporarily occupied by the victim.

Note: Victims have the option of waiving certain conditions required of the JRA. Waiver requests must be made in writing and submitted to the court.

Types of Abuse

Physical violence is when a person hurts or tries to hurt a partner by hitting, kicking, or using another type of physical force.

Sexual violence is forcing or attempting to force a partner to take part in a sex act, sexual touching, or a non-physical sexual event (e.g., sexting) when the partner does not or cannot consent.

Stalking is a pattern of repeated, unwanted attention and contact by a partner that causes fear or concern for one's own safety or the safety of someone close to the victim.

Psychological is the use of verbal and non-verbal communication with the intent to harm a partner mentally or emotionally and/or to exert control over a partner. This may also include financial control and manipulation.
